Digital Distribution introduction

With constant acceleration of innovation, the channel is transforming. AI, automation, blockchain, big data, cybersecurity, cloud, IOT and machine learning technology is consumed, distributed and procured differently. To win in a new competitive marketplace of services and software, subscription payment and recurring revenue our digital distribution platforms put partners in the driving seat. Westcon-Comstor applies our experience and expertise to help partners adapt to the new digital world.

Our integrated Digital Distribution platforms deliver the tools, technology integration and automation partners need to grow and thrive.

What does this mean for partners?

The platform enhances the customer experience for vendors and partners across the supply chain.

Agility

Visibility of all orders, quotes and vendor portfolios and real time data makes our partners more agile, responsive and adaptable to changing customer needs.

Productivity

Boosting the quality of our data and the efficiency of our processes Reduces turnaround time and minimises errors, leading to happier, more successful customers.

Profitability

By making it easier to do business with us through increased efficiency, visibility and integration, partners can profit from every new opportunity in a transforming digital world.

Scale

Vendors and partners can scale their business and grow their customer base with access to market through a single, unified, integrated platform.

Customer experience

By increasing efficiency, productivity and collaboration, our platform builds stronger, long-term relationships and customer loyalty.

Grow and thrive with Cloud opportunity

Our exclusive BlueSky platform paves the way for partners to deliver and sell Cloud. Overcoming the potential complexities that partners face when starting out with Cloud, BlueSky simplifies procurement and provisioning, billing and analytics, compliance and service delivery - giving partners visibility and control over the entire Cloud supply chain.

Developed in close collaboration with world-class vendors, BlueSky enables partners to grow Cloud business and make the most of high-value, recurring software and services revenues.

Easing customer transition to Cloud

The BlueSky Cloud and Services Management Platform allows performance management of the entire cloud services delivery lifecycle. Resellers can deliver Cloud services to their customers through a single portal.

Optimisation services with real-time reporting

We deliver on the promise of AWS, Azure and Google Cloud cost savings. BlueSky is built for resellers and MSPs, providing cost management, real-time reporting and analytics to optimise AWS, Azure and Google Cloud environments, allowing you to scale your Cloud with confidence.

Recurring revenue made easy

We're here to help our resellers get the most out of building and hosting the industry's most advanced solutions.

To help realise partners' cloud ambitions and overcome potential complexities, we developed BlueSky
